Dear Mr. Casey,

We certainly enjoyed having you visit our operations in Homestead, Florida. We would always be happy to host a visit by members of your staff or the Congressional staffs that you deal with who would benefit from a briefing and view of our operations. Since we are a short flight from Washington, D.C., they may find it a convenient place to visit.

I have reviewed the training material we use for our people and have extracted a few chapters on the basics of communications which should provide some fundamental knowledge and most importantly some definitions of the terminology or "buzz words" used in this field. The material is unclassified so you may also find it useful as bedside reading material to induce sleep.

Very Respectfully,

Donald A. Haines
